(Trenton) Investors Bank through the Investors Foundation awarded the NJAC Foundation a grant of $21,000.00 for county vocational-technical school graduates who plan on continuing their education at a county college or state college or university.

“Investors Bank and Investors Foundation are proud to support the NJAC Foundation,” said Investors Bank President and CEO Kevin Cummings. “NJAC has been integral in providing educational opportunities to so many of our bright students here in New Jersey—work that is vital for the long-term success of our communities. We applaud NJAC and wish the scholarship winners all the best in their future endeavors.”

Freeholder Richard D. Gardner, joined by Freeholder Jason J. Sarnoski and Freeholder Director Edward J. Smith, presents a certificate and the 2015 NJAC Foundation scholarship check from Investors Bank to Hannah Quamme of Washington.

The Foundation plans to partner with the New Jersey Council of County Vocational Technical Schools to identify potential candidates, and will distribute two $500.00 scholarships to well-deserving students in all twenty-one counties across the State. Since 2011, Investors Bank has awarded the NJAC Foundation grant monies totaling $95,000.00, which has helped an estimated 190 county vocational-technical school students pay for their education.

"I'm grateful that Investors Bank and the NJAC Foundation have once again partnered on this important and timely initiative to provide county vocational-technical school graduates with valuable scholarships that will help them and their families meet the ever increasing financial demands of pursuing an education," said NJAC Foundation President Donald De Leo.

Middlesex County Freeholder Director Ron Rios presents a certificate and the 2015 NJAC Foundation Scholarship check from Investors Bank to Shakyran Gaskin, who plans to study psychology at Kean University.
